MEMORIAL

The following is a list of the names of the persons who have been named in the Memorial to the President of the United States, in relation to the case of the late General Andrew Jackson, who died on the 21st day of August, 1821, at the age of 78 years, and who was one of the most distinguished and brave of our countrymen.

General Andrew Jackson was born on the 15th day of March, 1767, at the plantation of his father, General Andrew Jackson, in the State of North Carolina. He was educated at the College of William and Mary, in Virginia, and at the University of the South, in the State of South Carolina. He was a member of the Continental Congress, and served in the Revolutionary War, where he distinguished himself by his valor and bravery. He was one of the most successful military leaders of his time, and his name is forever associated with the great victory at the Battle of New Orleans, in 1815.

General Jackson was a man of great courage and determination, and his life was a constant struggle for the rights and liberties of his country. He was a true patriot, and his actions were always guided by a sense of duty and honor. He was a man of great character, and his name is held in high esteem by all who love their country.

The Memorial to the President of the United States, in relation to the case of the late General Andrew Jackson, is a tribute to his memory, and a recognition of his great contributions to our country. It is a memorial to a man who lived and died for the good of his country, and whose name will forever be remembered by all who love their country.

The Bell will be rung at dawn, to rise and dress; and, at sunrise, for recitation and study, to which one hour will be devoted before breakfast. The hours for study, recitation and recreation during the remainder of the day will be regulated with reference to strict economy of time.

DISCIPLINE.

Monthly Reports, showing the standing of Students in their Classes, and the number of absences from prayers, recitations and rooms during study hours, together with other irregularities, will be sent to parents and guardians.

The Institution is in possession of an excellent Chemical and Philosophical Apparatus. More than three thousand dollars have been already expended on these Departments alone; and the College is now supplied with better and more expensive means of furnishing experimental instruction in the several branches of Natural Science than ever heretofore. Much of the Chemical Apparatus has been imported directly from Europe for the use of the College; and no pains or expense has been spared to supply the most abundant and valuable means of illustrating this important branch. Not only is the illustrative apparatus complete, but all ordinary appliances for original research and practical investigation are now in the hands of the Professor of Chemistry.

The Philosophical Apparatus is inferior in quality to none in the country. Considerable additions are making in order that this Department may vie with the other in the completeness of its equipments.

The Mathematical Department is supplied with a superior Theodolite Compass, and the usual appliances.

The Astronomical Apparatus consists of such instruments as are ordinarily employed by instructors in this branch. The Telescope is a refractor of six inches aperture, and eight feet five and a half inches in length. It is mounted equatorially with finely graduated right ascension and declination circles, and has a highly finished driving clock.

The Geological and mineralogical Cabinet is sufficiently ample for purposes of instruction. A handsome series of Maps, Charts and Engravings has been procured to illustrate the Lectures on Geology.

There are in connection with the College, and in successful operation, two Literary Societies—the Philomathic and the Franklin. These Societies are provided with well-selected Libraries; and they must be regarded as valuable aids to the student in the formation of a literary taste, and in affording opportunities for exercise in debate, and for obtaining a knowledge of parliamentary rules.

2. No Student is admitted to a Degree or permitted to take any part in the Commencement Exercises, unless he has creditably sustained all his examinations, performed such other exercises as may have been assigned him, and settled all College dues, including a graduating fee of five dollars.

The location of Howard College is all that could be desired. Marion is situated on the Selma, Marion and Memphis Railroad. This road has been completed some distance beyond Marion, and places this town in direct and daily communication with Selma and the great lines of travel running through the latter place. Howard College is thus quite accessible by railroad from all quarters of this State and from the adjoining States. In addition to Howard College, there are located here two large and prosperous Female Seminaries. The town also contains five Churches—the Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, Episcopal and Christian. With these surroundings, and with a population of three or four thousand inhabitants, it is evident that Marion affords the wholesome restraint of a moral and intelligent community, without presenting those extraordinary temptations to young men incident to great centres of trade.

“It is the experience of the best schools that uniformity of dress is essential to both discipline and economy.” Therefore, all the students are required to wear on public occasions the grey uniform, which is furnished. About the College, they are allowed to wear the outer clothing which they bring from home.

ACCOMMODATIONS ENLARGED.
